Sydney Rosehill

Race: 7

Time: 3.50pm

Dist: 1200m

Ratings

- 5: Menari- 99
4: Pariah – 98
10: Kementari - 96
1: Invader – 92

Suggestions

Menari needs a good track and should get that today and had a win first up and could give this a serious shake, but not drawn great in gate 11 but at set weights. Pariah has trialled well leading to this prep. and had a nice win at Group 3 over a lesser distance and can be threat here. Invader will only have improved on his first up effort and if he has lifted enough he can be right in the finish. I'll back Menari to win and save on Pariah and maybe there is room to take an exotic. Maybe I'll go something on Invader.

Sydney Rosehill

Race: 8

Time: 4.30pm

Dist: 1200m

Ratings

- 4: Tango Rain - 98
13: Zumberlina – 96
8: Denpurr - 95
9: Mana – 93

Suggestions

Tango Rain comes into this race on the back of a win last start over a slightly lesser distance and is drawn well in gate 2 and maps for a very nice run in transit. Gets in well, but has 60.5Kg and is a strong chance once again. Zumberlina looks to be a bit of a chance today after recent trials which have been solid and has a rails draw and may be in this for a long way. I'll go for a win on Tango Rain and save e/w on Zumberlina and probably box them all up for an exotic.

Sydney Rosehill

Race: 9

Time: 5.10pm

Dist: 1400m

Ratings

- 5: The Pharoah - 98
3: Interlocuter – 97
6: Peacock – 95
7: Ebenos – 93

Suggestions

The Pharoah has not drawn well in gate 13 but does like to go forward and just may have enough gate speed to cross and has the ability to run a cheeky race and be hard to run down over the concluding stages. Interlocuter has only 5 career starts but continues to improve every time and does not have to lift much to be right in the finish and has good first up fresh form. I'll take an e/w on the top two raters and then box them all up for an exotic or two.

Melbourne Moonee Valley

Race: 7

Time: 4.10pm

Dist: 1200m

Ratings

- 2: Brave Smash - 100
- 8: Oak Door – 97
- 3: Santa Ana Lane – 95
- 10: El Divino - 93

Suggestions

Brave Smash went close first up against a very smart type and only has to produce that effort to be very hard to beat and has been up against some good runners in Japan prior to Oz and certainly has the ability to give this a shake. Oak Door made a solid effort first up to record a nice win and has decent gate speed and from a wide draw will most likely go forward and get into a forward position. My win bet is Brave Smash and I'll save e/w on Oak Door,

Melbourne Moonee Valley

Race: 8

Time: 4.50pm

Dist: 1600m

Ratings

- 5: He's Our Rokkii - 98
- 4: Star Exhibit – 96
- 10: Lizzie L'Amour – 95
- 11: Bonneval – 93

Suggestions

He's Our Rokkii is back in grade here and does look well suited and is weighted at his best but comes up with a nice draw in gate 1 and should drop into a very nice run and be a strong chance here. Star Exhibit did not do too much first up but always seems to improve quickly and has never missed a place second up and has a solid record over this distance and certainly has the ability. I'll go the win or e/w on He's Our Rokkii and save e/w on Star Exhibit, plus box them all up for an exotic.

Melbourne Moonee Valley

Race: 9

Time: 5.25pm

Dist: 1600m

Ratings

- 9: Etymology - 98
- 3: Stampede – 97
- 1: Big Duke – 95
- 2: Boom Time – 94

Suggestions

Etymology has had 5 trials leading into this prep. and put in a very solid run first up over 1400m and looks ready for the extra distance today and he will go well here. Stampede is very much an improving type and only has to continue in the same vein of form to ran a bold race today as well., plus he looked really good at his most recent trial. I'll take an e/w on the top two ratere and probably box them all up for an exotic.
